DIES

SUDDENLY OF APOPLEXY.

Dr. Geo. W. Griffiths Passes Away in Louisville.

WAS ONE OF THE MOST PROMINENT AND SUCCESSFUL DOCTORS IN STATE.

WILL BE BURIED SUNDAY.

Dr. George W. Griffiths, one of the most prominent physicians of Louisville, died in that city at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, 833 Third avenue, as the result of a stroke of apoplexy, which he suffered Thursday morning. Every effort was made to revive him after the stroke, but he failed to rally and sank steadily until the end came.

Dr. Griffiths had been a man of robust health, until recently, when his health began to fail and he was compelled to spend a month in the South. It was thought that his health had been much benefited and his sudden death came as a surprise.

For forty years Dr. Griffiths practiced his profession in Louisville, and he was one of the most successful physicians in that city. He had a very large practice and he was also the chief surgeon for the Louisville and Nashville Railroad and the Louisville Railway Company. He was president of the Louisville Clinical Society and was a member of the Kentucky State Medical Society and the American Medical Society. He was at one time a member of the school board and also the Board of Alderman. He was a member of a number of Fraternal societies.

Besides his wife Dr. Griffith leaves four daughters, Misses Kate and Edith Griffiths, Mrs. George G. Briggs, of Louisville, and Mrs. Stewart Courtney Spencer, of Ocean Springs, Miss. During the past two years two daughters died, Miss Bessie Griffith and Mrs. I. F. Marcooson, who was formerly Miss Grace Griffiths.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian church. The services will be conducted by Rev. J. S. Lyone and the burial will be in Cave Hill cemetery.

SETTLEMENT

PROMISED BY RECEIVER

IN EVENT THAT ASSETS OF DEFUNCT INVESTMENT COMPANIES ARE ALLOWED TO BE BROUGHT TO KENTUCKY.

In an effort to obtain possession of all the assets of the defunct Southern Mutual Investment Company, of Kentucky, and the American Reserve Bond Company, of Chicago, James C. Rogers, of Lexington, receiver for the first-named concern, has gone to Chicago, accompanied by his attorney, Col. John R. Allen, where they will try to get an order of court allowing them to bring the property into Kentucky. If successful, they say that the affairs of the company, which have been badly involved for some time, will be speedily wound up.

The Southern Mutual Investment Company, a Kentucky corporation, was organized at Lexington several years ago, and it later removed its offices to Chicago and became incorporated under the laws of Illinois as the American Reserve Bond Company. Following this action of the company the Kentucky stockholders applied, before Judge Watts Parker, of Lexington, for a receiver, and Mr. Rogers was appointed. This step was followed by similar action in Chicago by stockholders in other sections of the country, and Mr. Rogers was appointed receiver by the Chicago company, as the officers of that company were the same who conducted the Kentucky company. While most of the receivership years ago Mr. Rogers was able to get full payment of the assets of the company, he said last night that he is now in a fair way to accomplish the same. He will then turn them to Kentucky and wind up the affairs of the company. A majority of the stockholders of both concerns are residents of Kentucky and it is for this reason that the receiver has made efforts to get all of the assets into one State in order more fully to carry out the duties of receiver.

DOING NICELY.

Mr. L. H. Finnell, who has been at the Norton Infirmary for the past ten days, where he had a serious operation performed, is doing very nicely. He was able to sit up for a while on yesterday, and his physicians think he will be well enough to return home shortly.

"JIM" NEWMAN

ACCEPTS GOOD POSITION ON THE CINCINNATI ENQUIRER.

Mr. James L. Newman, of this city, who represented the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times in this city for ten years, and later held a fine position on the St. Louis Republic, has accepted a position on the Cincinnati Enquirer and will make that city his future home.

Frankfort has produced many excellent newspaper boys, but we believe that Jim Newman holds the list of the ones that have "made good."

There is no one who has more friends in Frankfort than Jim Newman and the favors he has done them will long be remembered.

Frankfort is very proud of the success he has made thus far and we predict for him a most brilliant future in his new home.

CAMPAIN

TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP.

JUNIOR MEMBERS OF Y. M. C. A. WILL HELP PAY OFF DEBT.

A meeting of the younger members of the Y. M. C. A. will be held Monday evening for the purpose of arranging for a campaign for new members. Realizing the strained condition of the institution at present, the junior members have agreed to put their shoulders to the wheel and assist in the work of paying off the large indebtedness. All young men who are interested in the Y. M. C. A. are requested to be present.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Rev. J. R. Zeigler, Pastor. Services may be expected Sunday, April 12, as follows:

9:45 a. m.—Sunday-school.
10 o'clock—Brotherhood Bible Class. Subject: "Balaam the Unwilling Prophet." Leader, Mr. George Harper.

7:30—Evening worship, with sermon by the pastor. Subject: "Remember Lot's Wife."

You will be welcome at each of these services.

Frankfort friends of Mrs. Ben Watt have received word that she will shortly join her husband in Oklahoma. Mrs. Watt says that her husband is much pleased with his prospects.

TAFT

ACCORDED ROYAL CLAP.

Does Honor To The Big Secretary.

DISCUSSES NATIONAL ISSUES BEFORE A PACKED AUDIENCE AT HOPKINS THEATRE.

DELEGATION FROM HERE.

Hon. William H. Taft, Secretary of War and candidate for the Republican nomination for President of the United States, spoke to a packed house last night at Hopkins Theatre, in Louisville. The big secretary was introduced by Col. Morris B. Belknap, former Republican nominee for Governor of Kentucky, and he was enthusiastically applauded by his admirers who flocked to Louisville from every quarter of the State to hear him.

Secretary Taft arrived in Louisville yesterday afternoon and he was kept on the move from the time he arrived until after the speaking and the Louisville people, regardless of politics, did all in their power to show him that he was welcome in their midst.

His speech was confined to national issues which he discussed in detail and from time to time he was vociferously applauded by his admirers. The War Secretary was accompanied by his special escort of prominent up-State Republicans, headed by State Chairman R. P. Ernst, of Covington, and the delegation of Republicans from Louisville that went to meet the distinguished guest, of which William Marshall Bullitt was the spokesman.

The train bearing the distinguished American stopped at Crescent avenue and Judge Taft was welcomed by the following Reception committee: H. P. Reager, C. C. Green, Walter A. Franz, Col. Morris Belknap, Clayton B. Blakely, George A. Newman, Jr., C. C. Stoll, C. L. Scholl, H. H. McCulloch, John H. Brand, R. A. McDowell, Dr. T. H. Baker, Dr. I. N. Bloom, Alfred Sellingman, E. J. Ashcraft, James Ross Todd, Carl Wiseman, F. C. Nunemacher, Judge Wheeler McGee, Mark H. Gahart, Ed Geren, Gilbert Cowan, Judge George DuRelle and Postmaster R. E. Woods.

Col. J. H. Haager, Chief of Police, was also present with a detail of six mounted policemen.

As soon as they disembarked from the train, Judge Taft and his party and the members of the Reception Committee boarded ten automobiles in waiting, and the whirl in Cherokee Park and the route through the city began.

While waiting for Judge Taft's arrival Dr. I. N. Bloom, who graduated from Yale College in the same class with Secretary Taft, received a telegram from the latter conveying the news that the War Secretary would certainly attend the class reunion to be held at New Haven, Conn., on June 30.

Chairman R. P. Ernst, of the Republican State Central Committee, said that he told Judge Taft on the trip to Louisville from Covington that the War Secretary would surely receive the twenty-six votes of Kentucky at the Republican National Convention to be held in Chicago. Mr. Ernst added that he was certain that his prediction would be fulfilled. He said Judge Taft expressed gratification over the news and the outlook in Kentucky, and was sure of being nominated for President on the first ballot at the Chicago convention.

Judge Taft was introduced to a number of Democrats at the Barr home, where the party stopped for a few minutes. He said a number of his dearest friends were Democrats and that the term "Democrat" was now only a "historical designation." Judge Taft said it gave him the utmost pleasure to come to Kentucky, where he numbered a host of personal friends on the bench and among the members of the bar. After refreshments had been served at the Barr home, Judge Taft and party started on their way through the streets to the residence of Secretary Taft, side by side. The vicinity was crowded by people eager to catch a glimpse of the noted American. In the hotel, an enthusiastic crowd of five hundred enthusiastic Republicans had gathered to shake Judge Taft's hand. He was given a rousing welcome when he stepped into the lobby.

Major James F. Grimstead, who was unable to meet the train in Crescent Hill owing to official duties, arrived at the Galt House shortly after the arrival of Judge Taft. He was accompanied by his private secretary, Paul Burlingame.

Col. Bennett H. Young called upon Secretary Taft at the reception given him at the Galt House this afternoon. In greeting him Col. Young remarked to the distinguished visitor:

"Mr. Secretary, God forbid that we ever have another Republican President, but if we are overtaken with that misfortune again may heaven grant that he will be William Howard Taft."

Their political differences aside, Judge Taft and Col. Young are old-time friends, as the result of their association when the War Secretary was a member of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals which sits at Cincinnati. At a former visit to Louisville, Judge Taft stopped as a guest at Col. Young's house.

Although his mission was purely political, Democrats as well as Republicans are glad that Secretary Taft was to be Louisville's guest and he was accorded every mark of honor, courtesy and respect that a patriotic and hospitable people delight to show to one of the nation's really big men. Republicans from the State vied with the Taft men in Louisville in doing honor to the Secretary. As a result of the visit of the Ohio candidate the Taft managers hope to capture the State from the Fairbanks men who now have a complete and thorough understanding with the Hughes followers.

William Marshall Bullitt, H. H. McCulloch and sheriff Charles Scholl left Louisville last night for Cincinnati, where they were joined by State Chairman Richard P. Ernst. The quartet took the Secretary of War in tow early this morning in the Queen City and accompanied him to Louisville, leaving the train at Crescent Hill at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

In Crescent Hill John H. Brand, R. A. McDowell, Col. Morris B. Belknap, H. P. Reager, Thomas H. Baker, George A. Newman, Jr., Clayton B. Blakely, Richard W. Knott, Judge J. Wheeler McGee and Dr. I. N. Bloom were waiting in automobiles to take charge of the favorite in the big race. Dr. Bloom was a classmate of the Secretary at Yale and they were graduated together. The doctor "knows Bill like a book" and has been for him for President ever since he was Judge of the United States Circuit Court at Cincinnati.

The party proceeded through Stilts lane to the Workhouse road, and thence through McFerran Place to the residence of John W. Barr, Jr., where, according to the Secretary's expressed desire, he paid a short call on the members of the Barr family, whom he has known for years. After a ride through Eastern Park and over the "Belknap Bridge," the procession of automobiles came down Broadway to Fourth Avenue, north on Fourth to Market; east on Market to Second; north on Second to Main; and East on Main to the Galt House, where the Secretary is holding a public reception in the lobby of the hotel. After the reception an informal dinner was tendered the Secretary, at which all the members of the Republican Committee and a few specially invited guests, were present.

NEW POSITION.

Frankfort friends of Mr. S. R. Ramsey, who was formerly city editor of the Kentucky State Journal, will be much interested to learn that he has accepted the city editorship of the Roanoke Virginia Times. Until recently, Mr. Ramsey has been on the Landmark, at Norfolk, Va. He is a newspaper man of extraordinary ability, and the success he has won has gratified, without surprising, his friends.

Pleasing particular people in printing is one of our specialties.

VIGILANCE

PREVENTED ATTACK

AT MURRAY

According To Advices From Calloway County.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN TOWN AND EXTRA TROOPS ARRIVED TO THE SCENE.

JAIL CLOSELY GUARDED.

At Murray, Ky., excitement prevailed early Thursday night as the result of the arrival of a large number of people from the county during the afternoon. They came on horseback, in buggies and on foot and the indications were that something was going to be pulled off when darkness arrived.

The county authorities held a hurried conference with Capt. J. L. Given of Company H., and it was decided to call for re-enforcements. Major Albrecht, of the Second regiment, was wired at Hopkinsville to despatch another detachment of soldiers on the first train. Picking thirteen of the best men of Company E., of Whitesburg, he sent them on the train, arriving at Paducah at 4 p. m. At Paducah they caught the accommodation on the Nashville, Chattanooga, and St. Louis and reached Murray at 8 o'clock. The squad was in command of Lieut. Caudill. By the time Murray was reached the town had filled up with strangers.

Capt. Givens lost no time in putting out a large patrol on all sides and on all the roads leading into town. As fast as a crowd assembled on the streets it was dispersed by the soldiers.

At 10 o'clock the crowd began leaving and when the midnight hour arrived not a soul was on the street but soldiers.

The report got out that night riders and their friends were mobilizing to liberate the seven alleged night riders placed in jail yesterday.

A heavy guard was thrown around the jail before darkness set in and was maintained all night.

The vigilance of the soldiers is believed to have prevented an attack on the jail. The authorities say they anticipated no trouble, but that they became alarmed is evident from the fact that they asked for re-enforcements.

Yesterday the town was as tame as a lamb. Men are sitting around in stores and on dry goods boxes discussing the excitement of Thursday night and the probable outcome of the charges against the seven men in jail.

Not one of the seven has engaged counsel and they have intimated to no one what will be their defense. It is believed they will waive examination, as Circuit Court convenes Monday. Judge Wells has a stack of evidence to submit against the men.

The drawing of the grand jury will be watched closely by Judge Wells and his supporters for law and order. On the list from which the grand jury is to be drawn is one man said to be a friend of the night riders.

All of the seven men are still in jail. Some of them tried hard to give bond, but failed, and have quit trying.

Judge Wells was asked this morning why the bonds of Jack Elkins, Hardin Lovett and Jake Ellis were $500 more than the other four. He said warrants were to be issued against them in another case and he put the bonds high enough to cover both. The cases in which they are charged with having participated are the whipping of Frank Mardis, Al. H. Perry and Willie Dwyer. Mardis and Perry were beaten until the blood streamed from their backs and legs. The mob called at the home of Dwyer for the purpose of whipping him, but he was found to be ill and was let off with a warning to cease talking and get into the association.

Only two of the seven prisoners belong to the tobacco association. They are Hardin Lovett and Jake Ellis, a blacksmith residing near Russell's Chapel. Ellis has not raised any tobacco for two years. The prisoners say they are not guilty.

It was expected that farmers in sympathy with the night riders would come to their aid, but not a man has offered his signature to a bond. The county authorities claim this indicates that the sentiment in the county is largely in favor of law and order.

ATTORNEY TAPP

Arrives in Frankfort To Argue The Case of Caleb Powers.

Attorney Sidney C. Tapp, of Atlanta, Ga., who will argue the case of Caleb Powers before Gov. A. E. Wilson today, arrived in the city yesterday and spent a great deal of his time in the State Library, looking up the laws bearing on the case.

RAPIDLY IMPROVING.

Mrs. John Griffin, who has been at St. Joseph's Hospital, for several months, was able to leave the institution this week, and is now visiting her mother in Louisville.

Bishop Lewis W. Burton, of Lexington, will conduct the services Easter Sunday at the Episcopal church and will confirm a class of about twelve.

DR. ADAMS

STILL UNDECIDED.

WILL MAKE ANOTHER VISIT TO JACKSON BEFORE HE COMES TO DEFINITE DECISION.

Rev. M. B. Adams has not yet decided whether or not he will accept the call to the First Baptist church at Jackson, Tenn., and he will likely not give out his final decision for two weeks.

Asked last night about the matter he said that recent developments at Jackson might necessitate his going to that city again before he will be able to come to a definite decision.

Dr. Adams will likely go to Jackson next week and on his return it is expected that he will have come to a decision.

HARGIS

HEARING FOR BAIL BEGINS.

MOTHER SITS NEAR THE YOUNG PATRICIDE—DEFENSE GIVES ITS TESTIMONY.

Circuit Judge Adams arrived at Jackson yesterday at noon from Beatyville to hear the motion for bail in the case of Beech Hargis. At 1 o'clock Judge Adams ordered the young patricide brought from the jail. The young man looks to be in the best of health.

As on former occasions, the mother was seated by her son, with the attorney, Col. T. T. Cope, of the local bar, who has also been retained by the defense.

At 1 o'clock, the defense announced ready, and as soon thereafter as the Commonwealth could call its witnesses, they announced ready.

The introduction of evidence was then begun by the defense.

TOBACCO MEN*CAN WIN THEIR FIGHT

SAYS JUDGE H. C. BOTT, OF OWEN COUNTY.

Judge H. C. Botts, of Owen county, was here this week and talked freely about the tobacco situation in the State, and said in part:

"There is not a law that is a just one desired by tobacco men and farmers of Kentucky that they can not secure in two years if they will only wait until the time comes to elect another Legislature. The farmers of the State are better organized now than any class of producers, and, if they will set their minds to do it, they can elect a majority of their representatives at the next session of the General Assembly, when bills covering every feature of the tobacco industry equitable to the producer, to the buyer, the seller and the manufacturer can be passed and the trouble that is threatening the State in every section of the tobacco district will be suppressed. We have had but little trouble in our county, and don't believe we will have any more."

Representative J. F. Porter, of Webster, to appear before the Board of Equalization in behalf of his county, doubts that much good could be accomplished, even if an extra session of the Legislature is called. He said in response to the question whether he thought an extra session would be called: "If sufficient pressure is brought to bear and Gov. Willson feels that an extra session is necessary, I believe he will call one. Individually, I would very much regret to see an extra session called. The political parties at present being equally divided make it doubtful as to the results accomplished. The more subjects embraced in the call, if an extra session is held the more doubtful would be the results of such a session. Of course, Governor Willson's administration is pledged to secure the passage of the County Unit Bill, and it may be that he will use his best efforts to carry out the pledge."

CHARGES OF BRIBERY.

JUDGE R. L. STOUT CHARGES GRAND JURY TO INVESTIGATE GATE LEGISLATIVE VOTE.

Circuit Judge Stout in his charge to the grand jury did not directly mention the recent senatorial race, but he said the crime of vote selling was a most heinous one in any form, but especially was it contemptible when a man elected to the Legislature by his constituents' "comes to the State Capital and fails to carry out the wishes of his people, or, in other words, sells out."

He said it was a matter of common rumor that lobbyists had bought votes for and against certain measures and he told the grand jury that it was their duty to investigate the matter fully both as to who sold out their constituents and those who did the buying.

It is understood that all the newspaper reporters who served here during the legislative session will be summoned to tell where they heard the bribery rumors that were so frequently published.

The members of the grand jury, who will insert the probe into the rumors and charges referred to by Judge Stout are A. G. Jeffers, foreman; Jose Aubrey, Brack Dorton, Duard Bryant, Frank Austin, William O'Donnell, F. S. Haff, Richard Cheek, Bowman Stone, William Quieries, James Farmer and Dudley Baker.

GOOD TIME ASSURED.

Swallowfield Lodge of Odd Fellows To Give an Entertainment To-Night.

Swallowfield Lodge of Odd Fellows will give an entertainment to-night at their hall at Peak's Mill. The program is as follows:

FRUIT CROP

BUT LITTLE DAMAGED BY THE COOL SNAP.

H. F. Hillenmeyer, the well-known nurseryman, of Lexington, said that, after a careful investigation, he was satisfied that there had been comparatively little damage by the cold snap and frost. Said Mr. Hillenmeyer: "The peaches in the lowlands were undoubtedly severely damaged, those on high lands injured very little, while the apple crop, as well as strawberries and similar fruits were not hurt at all. The English plums, such as green-gages, were damaged to some extent, but the American plums, like the wild goose, were unhurt. The principal damage was to the peach crop and I expect to eat peach cobbler this summer just the same."

GONE HOME.

The Hon. J. A. Sullivan, of Madison county, who was forced to take his bed at the Capital Hotel here some time before the legislative session came to an end, was well enough to go to his home at Richmond. While hardly himself as yet, Mr. Sullivan has convalesced rapidly and Dr. C. A. Fish, his physician, believes that he will soon be as strong and well as ever.

MET PA AT BARN.

YOUTHFUL NIGHT RIDERS GET THEIRS WHERE IT DOES THE MOST GOOD.

A special dispatch from Glasgow says: Most every great question, no matter how grave or important, has its humorous side, and the "night rider" situation is no exception. The following story, related by a Larue county farmer, while ridiculous and amusing, may account for many of the warnings that have been sent farmers all over the State. Every man who has been a boy can easily understand the following situation. The farmer who resides near Hodgenville, and who is authority for the story, is the father of two boys, aged eleven and thirteen years, upon whom he was relying to cultivate a 1908 crop of tobacco. The boys, not enter in this part of the program with the best of spirits, had planned to scare "the old man." Accordingly one day they cut a lot of limber switches, and that night tied them into two bunches and laid them at the front door of the home. On the door they tacked this sign: "Old man, if you raise any tobacco this year there will h—l raised here."

NIGHT RIDERS.

From a window in the kitchen the father watched the operations of the boys, and when they retired and were fast asleep dreaming of the happy days they would spend with rod and line on the creek bank instead of tussling with the worms in the tobacco patch, he stole into their room.

In the trousers leg or each he deposited a bunch of the switches and on the seats of their pants was attached the following sign:

"Night Riders: Meet me at the barn at 7 o'clock in the morning, when h—l raising will begin."

The appointment was kept.

FOR CONGRESS

J. Campbell Cantrill Announces His Candidacy On The Democratic Ticket.

In announcing for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Seventh Congressional District, Hon. J. Campbell Cantrill states his position on what he terms the "two live issues of the day," the tobacco and temperance questions. The part of his statement referring to these questions is as follows:

"There are two live issues before the people of Kentucky today—the tobacco problem and the local option question. My position on the tobacco question is known to all men. If elected to Congress I pledge myself to vote for any legislation that will prevent shipment of liquor from another State into dry territory in Kentucky and any other legislation that will give force and effect to the will of the people as expressed at the polls upon this question. I do not make this pledge to gain votes, but because this stand is consistent with my record in the State Senate and because I believe it is right. It is made without consultation with any man or set of men."

"The political deals in the district make it imperative that an Equity man should be in this race, it having been agreed that one of the most violent enemies of the Equity movement was to be sent to Congress next time. Had this deal not been made and had the action of the committee been fair and reasonable I would not have been a candidate, but the challenge was made and I have accepted it."

ANXIETY*FELT BY REPUBLICANS.

FEAR OF THE RESULT AT THE COMING NOVEMBER ELECTION.

A special to the Courier-Journal Wednesday, from Washington, says: "Republicans are not yet in a position to make no progress in the election. The anxiety of the party is to have a national election.

members of the party are not in a position to have a national election.

chances are against the election of a Republican majority in the House next fall.

Some Republicans entertain very grave doubts over the presidential election, but console themselves with the hope that the Democrats 'may do the wrong thing at the right time, and thus compensate for existing disadvantages under which the Republican party is said to be laboring. It is admitted that this is somewhat of a new role for the Republican party to be playing, prospective beneficiary of the mistakes of its opponents. It is pointed out that heretofore the Republicans have won upon a policy of action, aggression and progress. The great victories on the money question, the tariff question, the Philippine question and others were gained in this way.

"Two main causes contribute to the anxiety of the Republicans at this time. They are, first, the widespread hard times, a fertile and prolific field for Democratic growth. Second, the factional troubles within the Republican party in a great many States."

FRANKFORT COURT DAY SALES.

15 stock hogs, 5c per pound; 3 shortos, $3.35 each; 1 yearling bull, $30.00; 1 milch cow, $26.00; 1 milch cow and calf, $30.00; 1 milch cow and calf, $35.00; plug horses, from $10, up to $75. Market low on horses. Good combined horses sold well. Cattle and hog market looks good.

TOBACCO BARN BURNED.

FRANK FORSEE, OF PEAK'S MILL, LOSES 4,000 POUNDS BY FIRE.

Fire of unknown origin, Tuesday night, between 7:30 and 8 o'clock, destroyed the large tobacco barn belonging to Frank Forsee, who lives on the Peak's Mill road, three and one-half miles from this city.

There were about 4,000 pounds of tobacco, a lot of hay and other feed stuff in the barn. Mr. Forsee was not at home at the time the fire occurred.

There is no theory as to the cause of the first. It was not the work of the night riders, however, for Mr.

Forsee is a member of the Society of Equity, and had the tobacco in his barn pooled with the Franklin Board of Control. It is believed to be are work of the Independents, for so far as could be learned, Mr. Forsee has not an enemy in the world.

Mrs. Witt M. Moore and daughter,

Miss Jessie, are guests of Mr. Ross

Wagner and wife, at Greenfield, Indiana.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS

Now Being Taken of Frankfort With

Fifty Workers in the Field.

The work of taking the religious census of Frankfort was begun Thursday morning. The supplies for the census takers on the north side of the river will be found at W. S. Farmer's, and those for the South Side at LeCompte and Gayle's. The city has been divided into the following districts:

Belle Point, Episcopalians.

Washington street, west of river, First Presbyterians.

Washington street, east of High street, Baptists.

East Main street and Holmes streets, Christians.

Shelby street, West, Second Presbyterians.

Shelby street, East, Methodists.

There are about fifty people engaged in this work.

WARNING NOTICE.

Mr. Charles M. Parrish, clerk in Auditor James' office, is showing a note, written in red ink, which he claims was sent to him by the night riders. Mr. Parrish resides in Woodford county, and says he will not raise and to-bacco this year.

DEATH OF DR. EDWARD H. BLACK.

Prominent in Baptist Church Work For 75 Years; Also a Mason For 60 Years.

Dr. E. H. Black, one of the best known and one of the oldest Masons in the State, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jas. A. Hodges, 1680 Brook street, Louisville, shortly after 6 o'clock Sunday evening. Dr. Black was eighty-nine years old, and was probably the oldest Mason in the State.

He is survived by his son, H. C. Black, August 10, 1830, in Covington, and was with his men in the Civil War, and

A. Black, in Kansas City, Mo., a and a son in the Spanish-American war.

Mrs. Mrs. Mrs. of Kansas

City, Mrs. Mrs. and Mrs. Jas. A. Hodges.

He also leaves fifteen and twelve great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to the old home at Stamping Ground, Ky., on Tuesday morning, and the funeral services and interment were held from the Baptists church, in that place, of which Dr. Black had been a member for 60 years. The services were conducted by the pastor of the Baptist church of that place.

Edward Henry Black was born in Stamping Ground, September 26, 1819, and with the exception of twelve years spent in Frankfort as Superintendent of the State Institute for the Feeble-Minded, and the last seven years of his life in Louisville, he had lived there all his life. He graduated in medicine just before the medical college, then at Lexington, was brought to Louisville and made one with the University of Louisville. Dr. Black is said to have been the oldest living graduate of a medical college in Kentucky.

Dr. Black practiced his profession for fifty years, and left it on account of physical disability. His conduct of the State Institute was regarded as unusually efficient, as attested by the fact that he was re-appointed by two Governors.

When fourteen years old Dr. Black became a member of the Baptist church at Stamping Ground, and remained in the church until the time of his death, so that his membership extended over seventy-five years. It is believed that his tenure is longer than that of any other member of the Baptist church in Kentucky. He held many high positions in the church, having been Moderator over twenty years of the Elkhorn Association in which his church is located, and having served for two years as Moderator of the General Association of the State.

Dr. Black possessed a wonderful memory, and his relatives say that he was the best informed Bible student in their knowledge. He could quote with remarkable ease and accuracy from many parts of the Scriptures, and frequently a misreading of a passage read to him in his later years.

Though he joined the Masons shortly after becoming of age, and certainly was a member for more than sixty years, Dr. Black did not have the distinction of being the oldest (that being held by Col. Thomas Todd, of Shelbyville.) Dr. Black was a Chapter Mason, and was intensely interested in the work of the organization. He held several offices in the lodge at Stamping Ground.

Dr. Black married three times, having married his last wife, Miss Julia Adams, in 1849. Two years after they celebrated their wedding she died, and Dr. Black came to Louisville to live. He had been confined to his room for over a year, and had been gradually sinking. Members of his family were with him when he died.

His life was a blessing to the church and the world and his death was a benediction.

DOING NICELY.

MRS. W. D. ROY, WHO SUFFERED THE AMPUTATION OF A LIMB, DOING NICELY.

Mrs. W. D. Roy, who suffered the amputation of one of her limbs at St. Joseph's Infirmary in Louisville last week, is reported to be improving rapidly.

Mrs. Roy and her interesting family were very popular in Frankfort and their many friends here will be pleased to know that the operation was successful.

The injury resulted from a bruised ankle and Mrs. Roy suffered a great deal before the operation was performed. The member was removed below the knee.

Pointed Paragraphs

Something of Interest....Notes on Advertising.

"Making good" is the brief, pithy expression of the growing American sentiment as to the square deal in politics, finance, transportation, commerce and the industries. The sentiment contained therein is no less important in the profession of newspaper making, medicine and teaching. It may be slang, or a provincialism, but "to make good" is the key note of all success worthy of recognition. It is one great consideration in printing and journalism. Shilly-shallying, inaccuracy, incompleteness, lack of taste, "just as good," "never mind, that will answer," are the pitfalls to each and signify inherent indifference to the highest sense of honor that requires full measure; a want of proper regard for the rights of others, and a lack of the deep, real interest and pride in one's calling requisite to that high performance that brings honor, with satisfaction in worthy accomplishment.

Let me live this life without truckling appeal to the present or fear of a future—with head erect and hope in my heart—conscience my comrade, and work its own recompense. Give it me to suffer fools with fortitude, and meanness without malice; vouchsafe me self-forgetfulness and self-respect—with these I can face them now, and then. Help me to forget a fault, and forget failure. Forbid that I ever be discourteous orunkind—may I remember, always the relative values of money and manners—let me not judge others—bearing in mind that all is set down in the Big Book. Make me obedient to Thy purpose of creation, that I may have the love of woman, and the confidence and companionship of friends. If so be there is sorrow and suffering in store, as is the rule of all life, give me a courage to bear and strength to endure—having in mind others, too, have carried a cross. And if, as the end draws near, I shall not have reached the castle of my dreams, be gracious then if ever, oh God, and give it me to be content.—Bill Barlow.

"There are three things," he said, "which no man can do to the satisfaction of other men—make love, poke the fire and run a paper. No matter if a man has no more sense than an oyster and does not know how many toes he has, he always knows how to run the paper better than the editor. And, what is more, he tells all about in the street car. But despite all this valuable advice that is wasted the editors still go on making blunders and money."

"The old fashioned editor who had to be all things to all men is passing away. The time has come when a man who runs a paper is his own master."—William A. White, Emporia, Kan.

CAREFUL WORK.

The work we do is the kind that wins—clean, tasty and telling. Our aim is steady and we never miss the mark, because we want every bit of printing that we do to bring more business—and it most always does. We are here to stay and keep the business going.

A well known business man says: "Show me a prosperous, busy print shop and I will show you where to go for high-class work."

It works both ways.

We say: "Show us a print shop that seeks high-class work and we will show you a busy, prosperous concern."

Cheap work dies with the day. It is sold on price alone, and when Smith bids two cents under you, your customer is gone.

But if you seek to produce work which, as long as it lives, will be an advertisement for your shop, you will cultivate only well-satisfied, liberal and permanent customers. You will be proof against the price-cutter.

A man gets an estimate written on cheap paper; says to himself: "If this man skimps so on letter paper, he is apt to skimp on my work." Using poor paper is poor business, however you look at it, because the paper represents you, and you cannot prevent it. The safe thing is to use paper so good that you are willing to have your work on your goods judged by it.

It is said that first impressions are strongest. The first impression produced by your letter comes from the paper upon which it is written. Before the text of the letter is reached, the "feel" and looks of the paper as it is unfolded creates a prejudice—good or bad.

Remember—the light in your eye, the grasp of your hand are absent in the written word. Avail yourself of every means to win a favorable reception for your letter—your silent representative.

After we have heard a man talk, it doesn't make so much difference the kind of clothes he wears. After we have read a letter, it doesn't make so much difference what stationer it is written upon. But a man before we hear him talk, is better before we see him. He befooses the calligrapher with his dress, and the correspondence is brought to his stationery.

FAR MEN.

According to the Oklahoma reporter of the Tulsa World, he was shocked because a street carnival had an attraction which was playarded, "For Men Only." From the numbers going in she decided that it must be something desperately wicked and said some crass things about it in the paper. It developed that the attraction consisted of a clothes-line on which was hung a pair of pants, coat, vest and socks. When one sucker was caught he very naturally steered all of his friends into the trap.

HIGH FINANCE.

A lady who had a kindly remembrance for all her domestic servants met an erstwhile washerwoman and stopped to ask her how she fared. "Oh, mem, it's terrible financial distress me an' the children's in!"

"Why, what is it? Are you out of employment?"

"No, mem. Work's in a fair state of stillness and not a cent do I owe, but it's lashins' o' trouble I've got!"

"Are you not paid promptly?"

"As promptly as the day cooms round."

"What is your financial distress, then?"

"Well, mem" (in a burst of horror), "what's killin' me is, I earn $6 the week an' pay $8 for me board, an' God only knows how I do it!"—Short Stories.

A talent of gold was $13,800.

A talent of silver was $533.33.

A bin was one gallon and two pints.

A shekel of silver was about 50 cents.

A cubit was nearly twenty-two inches.

A mite was less than one-fourth of a cent.

A piece of silver or a penny was 13 cents.

A Sabbath-day's journey was about an English mile.

An ephah, or bath, contains seven gallons and five pints.

Ezekiel's reed was nearly eleven feet.

A firkin was seven pints, an omer was six pints, a cab was three pints.

A hand's breadth is equal to 3% inches.

A day's journey was about 23 5/8 inches.

A finger's breadth is equal to one inch.—The Evangelist.

A TIP THAT WAS REFUSED.

A Toronto man who visited England last summer appears to think that country the champion tipster. He says: "Well, I had tipped every man, from the swell gent, who seemed to own the House of Commons, down to the hireling, who gummed the wrong labels on my luggage, and I went into the waiting-room on the landing stage at Liverpool to wash my hands of everything English, and what do you think staled me in the face when I had finished? A placard, saying, 'Please tip the basin!' I'll be hanged if I did."

NICE DISPLAY.

The International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., will have a display of the work done by their students in this city, at South & Co.'s Drug Store, on the South Side, beginning Monday, April 13th and continuing for one week. The I. C. S. is without doubt the greatest educational institution in the world, and have helped more people with limited means to secure positions at handsome salaries than all the other schools combined. It will pay you to call and see this display and let the gentlemen in charge explain their method to you. Ask for free literature. Mr. W. C. Ward, of Lexington, is the Division Superintendent, and Mr. P. B. Zanone, of this city, is the representative and both of these men will be here with this display.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION ACTS ON HARRISON, HOPKINS AND WEBSTER COUNTIES.

The trustees of the Anti-Saloon League have instructed the executive committee to ascertain if the time has come for the League to lend the temperance people of Kentucky aid in a fight for a State-unit bill, and gave instructions to continue the work for the County Unit Bill.

Delegations of prominent citizens from Harrison, Hopkins and Webster counties left Frankfort Thursday night, "sore" at the treatment which they said was accorded their counties by the State Board of Equalization. Following the example it has set in the cases of many more counties of the State already, the board gave these three counties good, stiff raises. After considering the local assessments on which there were protests against increases the board raised Harrison county three per cent. on farm lands; Hopkins county five per cent. on farm lands and town lots; and Webster county eight per cent. on lands. The Hopkins county preliminary increase by the board had been fifteen per cent. but after hearing the arguments the board reduced it to five per cent. Shelby county was raised three per cent. on lands and Henderson county two per cent. on lands.

Appearing before the board from Harrison county were County Judge T. E. King, F. B. Bedford, Wm. Adams, I. N. Monson and Assessor E. F. Mason. From Hopkins county were County Judge J. W. Wilson, County Attorney Ruby Lafoon, Representative T. E. Finley and C. C. Givens. From Webster county, County Judge A. C. Watson, Representative J. F. Porter and J. A. Aldridge.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce J. Campbell Cantrill, of Scott county, a candidate for Congress from the 7th Congressional District, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, May 12, 1908.

The efforts of certain Republicans to bring about the removal of M. R. Glenn as Rate Clerk of the Railroad Commission is causing some speculation among both Democrats and Republicans. It is claimed that shortly after the election Gov. Willson had an interview with the Republican members of the commission at which time he told them that while they were in the majority he believed Mr. Ferguson, the only Democratic member of the Commission, was entitled to some recognition when it came to considering the appointments. It is said that the appointment of Mr. Glenn was made on the strength of this suggestion.

We have always believed that to the victor belongs the spoils, but if bi-partisan rule is to be the order of the day, there is certainly an equitable adjustment of matters in the commission at present, as the secretary and stenographer are Republicans, while the Rate Clerk is a Democrat. It is said that the Governor is standing pat on his recommendation.

Representative W. E. Dowling, of Anderson county, is preparing to make the race for State Senator in the district composed of Franklin, Anderson and Mercer counties. Judge Dowling made a splendid record during the legislative session, and it is the opinion of his friends that he will have easy sailing, as it is Anderson county's time to name the Senator, and no opposition is expected from his own county.

Judge Dowling is a brother of Mrs. John P. Stewart, of this county, and he has many friends here. He is a young man of splendid character and ability and would make a good Senator.

The Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. is preparing a statement of the financial condition of the institution to be presented to the ministers of the city. The co-operation of the ministers will be asked in the final effort to place the Y. M. C. A. on a good footing. This is a worthy cause and the good people of Frankfort should not allow the institution to close its doors for lack of support.

The entry of Hon. J. Campbell Cantrill into the race for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district will make things lively hereabouts for a while. Cantrill is a whirlwind campaigner and a speaker from "away back." As he is going after a man who is something of a hustler himself, the fight promises to be very spirited.

Says the Lexington Leader:

"As the Society of Equity has won its fight for 'no crop in 1908' and has the Tobacco Trust at its mercy, may we modestly suggest that it turn in and help the newspapers of America put a few cramps in the Paper Trust?"

You have our consent.

BI-PARTISAN

BOARD OF CONTROL

MAY MAKE SOME IMPORTANT CHANGES IN THE MANAGEMENT OF ASYLUMS.

The first official investigation of the asylums of Kentucky by the bi-partisan Board of Control, recently created by the Kentucky General Assembly, was begun Thursday, and will be continued until all of the charitable institutions of the State have been inspected.

The Central Kentucky Asylum for the Insane at Lakeland was the first institution to come under the investigation, the four members of the board spending Thursday in going thoroughly over the institution and grounds and taking note of everything pertaining to the management of the asylum and the care of the patients confined there. The same rule will be applied to the other similar institutions of the State, the Feeble-minded Institute, at Frankfort, being the next scene of investigation, and, following this, the asylum for the Insane at Lexington and Hopkinsville will be visited.

While nothing definite regarding the nature of changes and improvements to be recommended by the board will be given out until all of the institutions of the State have been inspected, it was learned yesterday that the board will authorize the removal of many of the inmates of the four institutions to their respective counties in the State where the facilities for their care and protection will be maintained. This removal, it is said, will be for patients who have been confined at the institutions for years, and are either greatly improved in health or are in such condition that they are helpless or harmless. This action on the part of the board is due to the fact that all of the charitable institutions of the State are overcrowded, and at the present time it is impossible to admit any more patients. The removal of the more harmless patients can be done according to law, but this is the first time in our history where it has been found necessary to bring the law into effect.

The members of the bi-partisan board, who are making the investigation and inspection of the charitable institutions, are Col. Albert Scott, chairman, and Stanley Milward, the Republican members, and Percy Haly and Dr. Milton Board, the Democratic members. All four members of the board are on the tour of inspection, which will conclude with the investigation of the Western Kentucky Asylum, at Hopkinsville, next week, following which a report and recommendations of the board will be made to Gov. Willson.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

Will Be Constituted at Shelbyville on Saturday.

Shelby Commandery of Knights Templar will be constituted tomorrow, the work beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and continuing until midnight. The Marion Commandery, of Lebanon, will give the degrees. Grand Commander R. R. Burnham, of Richmond, who is the head officer of the State Grand Commandery, is expected to be present, and many Sir Knights from Louisville. Eight candidates will travel over the sands to the shrine. The degrees will be conferred in Odd Fellows' Hall. An elaborate banquet will be a feature of the initiation.

Those who have given our printing a trial have been pleased and gratified. Some of our customers say it is the best printing done in the city—the best they have ever received.

FINISHING •

THE NEW CAPITOL.

PLANS WILL BE CONSIDERED AT MEETING OF COMMISSION NEXT WEEK.

Plans for the new capitol, a power plant to furnish electric lighting, heating and fuel, and all the other indoor work necessary to make the new capitol habitable will be taken up at a meeting of the Board of Capitol Commissioners, which will be held next week. Architect Frank M. Andrews was here this week to meet with the Commissioners, but Gov. Willson's absence in Louisville forced a postponement, and he will come back to Kentucky next week to take up with the commissioners the winding up of much of the work under the first appropriations made for the capitol construction.

Unless he is re-engaged by the commission Mr. Andrews will have nothing to do with the completion of the building under the new appropriation of $475,000 made by the last Legislature. He says that he will not consider any proposition for his services at less than five per cent, the usual fee charged by first-class architects.

Either Mr. Andrews, or whoever may be selected by the commission to have charge of the completion of the building will take up with the board at the next meeting, according to present plans, the details for the finishing touches which will be put on the building.

The Capitol board met Thursday with Capt. E. M. Drane, who was chosen as secretary to succeed Henry Ware, acting for the first time. Nothing was done beyond the approval of bills, but it was determined that at the next session a start will be made on the plans for the finishing touches.

WARNING

FROM NIGHT RIDERS.

SHELBY COUNTY FARMER DE CIDES NOT TO RAISE TOBACCO.

A special from Shelbyville, which was received here yesterday, says:

As a result of a letter from the night riders, which was received yesterday, one prominent farmer of Shelby county, who had intended raising tobacco, this year, will not plant his crop. He does not want his name used, but says the threatening letter was sufficient to deter him from planting tobacco, although he had made his plans to grow the usual crop. The latter, which was mailed in Frankfort, was as follows, being written with a pencil and in printed letters:

"Wake up — — —. Now you have run your lip long enough. We are tired of your old racket. Your mouth must stop or we will blow you into hell. You can't bluff us and you needn't try. If we hear from you again we will hurt you. Your neighbors has told us that you were fixing to raise tobacco. Also some of your neighbors are fixing for tobacco. You all have gone far enough. We will see that neither of you raise a plant of tobacco. Now if you think hell ain't in store for you, go on. We can and will come and see your hide and barns. Will learn you something yet. Get all the guns you want. We are well armed and are going to do business with all of you people who attempt to raise tobacco in 1908. Whips, matches, guns and dynamite will be your gains. Such men as you will have to learn a new trick some time. Now we will hear from you soon and possibly see you. If it is necessary we will use the rope. Get ready to fight or be governed accordingly. Hell will be your portion when we come. We must not hear any back talk."

FUNERAL

OF JUDGE JAS. E. CANTRILL.

Prominent and Influential Soldier, Lawyer and Jurist Went to Rest at Georgetown

Plans for the funeral of Judge James E. Cantrill, prominent and influential soldier, lawyer and jurist, who died Saturday morning, after about two years of suffering, Judge Cantrill was buried at Georgetown.

Judge Cantrill had a somewhat unusual career. He was born in Scott county, reared in Scott county, and died at Georgetown.

He was a young man. After he prepared himself for the bar and located in St. Louis, Mo.

At the outbreak of the Civil War he returned to Scott county and raised a company of soldiers for the Southern Army. He was at first assigned to the command of Gen. Abe Buford. Later his company was transferred to the brigade of that intrepid soldier and splendid cavalry commander, Gen. Jno. H. Morgan, and so remained until the death of Gen. Morgan met his death.

Later he was a part of the command that accompanied President Jefferson Davis in his attempt to escape from the country.

After the war closed Judge Cantrill returned to Scott county, and resumed the practice of law. Soon thereafter he was elected a Representative from his county in the Legislature, where he served with credit to himself and benefit to his people.

Splendid progress on the interior work has been made by the contractors during the spring months. The weather has been fine for fast work and little more remains to be done. Already the State officials are beginning to make preparations for the removal of their offices to the new buildings.

The Capitol board met Thursday with Capt. E. M. Drane, who was chosen as secretary to succeed Henry Ware, acting for the first time. Nothing was done beyond the approval of bills, but it was determined that at the next session a start will be made on the plans for the finishing touches.

Again entering the field he was nominated and elected Circuit Judge from the district composed of Bourbon, Franklin, Scott and Woodford counties. He served one full term. Was re-elected and served as such until nominated for Appellate Judge from this district.

While making his canvass for Appellate Judge, he was stricken with paralysis, at Owenton, and, although elected, he never regained his health. While he remained upon the appellate bench, he was only able to sit three days and delivered one opinion. Something over a year ago, realizing his condition he resigned his position and retired to his home at Georgetown.

Judge Cantrill was a man of ability and firmness of purpose, and was brought into great prominence by his conduct of the exciting and wearisome trials of the noted Goebel cases.

Judge Cantrill was twice married and has a son by each marriage (Hon. J. Campbell Cantrill, by his first wife; and Mr. Cecil Cantrill, by his last wife). His wife and these sons survive him.

The funeral services were conducted from the Christian Church, in Georgetown, on Tuesday afternoon were largely attended by the bar of the State, the Knights Templar (of which order he was a st. Grand Commander), the B. P. O. Elks and the Confederate Veterans.

A special train was run from this city to carry those who wished to attend the funeral services.

MANAGER McNAMARA

Announces That Advanced Vaudeville Will be Given at Capitol Theatre.

One week from next Monday (April 20) Frankfort theatre-goers will have the pleasure of witnessing for the first time at the Capitol Theatre Advanced Vaudeville, such as is presented in all the largest cities of the entire South and West.

Manager McNamara left yesterday for Springfield, Ohio, to complete all arrangements for the presentation of Advanced Vaudeville in Frankfort by the National Managers Vaudeville Association of America, whose head offices are located in Springfield. Monday, April 20, is the date set for the opening, and three performances a day will be given every day except Saturday, when five will be the order, at 3 p. m. and 7:30 and 8:45, and on Saturday at 2:30 and 4 p. m. and 7:30, 8:45 and 10 o'clock.

There will be five feature vaudeville acts, including life motion pictures and operatic illustrated songs. There will be new people every week and acts will change on Monday and Tuesday each week. Motion pictures and illustrated songs will be changed daily, so that there will be practically a different show every day.

The price of admission will be within the reach of all—10 cents—and re-

A Brief Synopsis Of What Is Happening In Social Circles.

WOOLUMS—ADAMS—At Millville, on Thursday, Mr. James L. Woolums and Miss Hallie Adams were married.

DEEDMAN—MORROW—At Millville, on Thursday, Mr. Grover C. Dedman and Miss Nora Morrow were married.

MONTGOMERY—SCHOOLFIELD.

Frankfort society people will be pleasantly surprised to learn of the forthcoming marriage of Miss Ann Montgomery to Mr. Charles B. Schoolfield, which was announced Thursday by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Z. J. Montgomery. The date of the ceremony has been fixed for Wednesday evening, April 22, and will take place at the handsome Montgomery home in South Frankfort, and will be witnessed by only the immediate families of the young people.

Miss Montgomery is regarded as one of Frankfort's most attractive belles and only recently was graduated from Smith College, in Massachusetts. Mr. Schoolfield, who recently came here from Danville, has already taken high rank among the younger attorneys, and has made many warm friends, who will congratulate him on winning so charming a young bride.

SEWING CONTEST.

The Lofting Club of this city is attracting much attention by the novel entertainments that are being given of late. On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Buford Hendrick entertained the club and the feature of the occasion was a sewing contest, which was entered into with spirit by the industrious matrons. Prizes were offered for the best hemmed article, the work to be done during the meeting. The first prize, a gold thimble, was won by Mrs. Warwick, although Mrs. Horace Posey's work was so neatly executed it was thought for a time the two ladies would have to draw for the prize. Several guests acted as the judges.

The guests' prize, a potted lily, was awarded to Miss Jennie Morris. After the contest an elegant luncheon was served, consisting of several courses.

PATRONIZE
HOME INSTITUTIONS.

WE HAVE ACCEPTED THE AGENT
CY FOR THE BEST LEDGER MADE.

The loose leaf system of keeping books is particularly adapted to the use of banks, and a large portion of them have already recognized this fact.

A few of the reasons why this system meets the rigid demand of the banking business will not amiss.

Of all lines of business, banking is considered the most imperative in its demands for balancing, and in any well regulated bank the bookkeeper is not allowed to leave the bank until his books are in perfect balance.

As the business does not close until four o'clock, it leaves very little time for the proper entries to be made and the balance drawn off.

Any plan that will lighten the labor and make posting easier and balance-taking easier, certainly works to a most excellent advantage where these necessities prevail, and that the posting and balance-taking from a set of loose leaf books can be accomplished in two-thirds the time of any other set of books, is a fact which any bookkeeper who works upon a loose leaf will substantiate.

Not only in a bank bookkeeper's time valuable, but there are others in the bank who have to wait upon his movements for their final report whose time is of still more value; hence it is the object of bankers to take advantage of such things in their accounting department as will facilitate the business, and in this manner enable them to keep everything not only accurate and true, but strictly to the time limit.

The loose leaf system provides a ledger which is alive, not moribund. Like the bookkeepers themselves, it sparkles with life. It does not require a half hour's time to scan accounts which are closed, and perhaps have been for months.

It does not necessitate reference to a book or card index before you can locate the account. It is awake. It fairly bristles with opportunity, and presents your accounts in alphabetical order ready for such entries as may be necessary to bring the record up to the time of closing.

Safe? Yes, as safe as your vaults. Don't you have a check against your sewed ledger? Don't you know how much your balance must be from the teller's statement? Would you not know equally well if you had loose leaf books instead of sewed books?

Bank accounts when closed are seldom revived, therefore there would be but little transferring of sheets from the inactive binder. The books are much smaller, take up less room on the desks and in the vaults, and are therefore much more easily handled. They do not build up and become awkward on account of the fact that sheets of active accounts as soon as full can be removed to the transfer file, and the active books relieved of the unnecessary matter, for if reference is necessary to this record it is found in proper consecutive order, sheet after sheet, and remains so whether the customer banks with you ten months or ten years.

The loose leaf daily balance books is a great thing. It is not very much used, but its use would be universal if its merits could be fully appreciated. I placed one of the books in a prominent bank in St. Louis, and the cashier tells me that no effort at improvement ever gave him greater satisfaction. This book is arranged on the Boston Bank Ledger plan, with a master sheet for the names which projects about four inches to the left. Instead of having to write your name up monthly, you do not have to write them until the sheet is demoralized by withdrawals, and even then you only have to write the pages thus affected.

The master sheet is followed by a short sheet having space for three days per page, thus each sheet will last exactly a week and will accommodate thirty-two accounts, if necessary, or may be used for less if the account is very active. This daily gives checks in detail, total checks, deposits and balance, and is a daily replica of the ledger, checking it effectively and doing away with any journal record of checks. The leaf is made "tumble form" so that all the writing is upon the left side of the book.

One of the great advantage of this balance book is that balances are kept up close, especially with uncertain customers, and bankers have told me that it was worth many times its cost in preventing overdraws by undesirable customers.

Another loose leaf book which has met with instant favor among the banks is the Note Ledger. The beauty of having the record of discounts kept in this manner is that the account is always in the same place. It is found very quickly by the cashier or discount clerk. By referring to such an account which may be secretly marked if desirable, you can tell at a glance whether the customer is meeting his obligations promptly, and whether his endorsers are satisfactory, whether he has reached the limit set for him, or whether further accommodation is to be denied. The saving of one bad account of this nature is worth a dozen of the ledgers. Here is where speed in locating an account tells. The customer is waiting. The cashier excuses himself for a moment; the account is instantly found and in a moment he knows what action to take. He re-enters almost before the customer knows he is out and announces his decision. Here is also a place where quick work tells. With the old books you are obliged to hunt up and locate the account, and then, perhaps, will find it transferred to some other folio on account of the lack of proper space.

There is a saving of time in entering; in referring to the account by the president, cashier or assistant cashier, or whose ever business it is to pass upon such matters, and of the customer who admires such promptness.

Yes, I will agree with you. Loose leaf books for banks are the proper thing, and every bank that is alive to its best interests is putting them in.

There are a number of other loose leaf books in use in metropolitan banks, but those described and the following are the principal ones:

Many banks use the loose leaf for Minute Books, Stock Ledgers, Eastern Balance Book, Draft Register, Check Register for cashier's checks, Certificate of Deposit Register, Collection Register "In," Collection Register "Out," Remittance Register, Note Tickler, Interest Book, Average Balance Book, Liability Ledger, General Cash, Journal, Teller's Tickler, Signature Book, Dividend Registers, Check Journal, Perpetual Trial Balance, Collection Tickler Statement Journals, Recapitulation, etc.

We have a line of samples at our office and will be glad to show them to you.

TWENTY-NINE PRISONERS WERE BROUGHT HERE WEDNESDAY FROM LOUISVILLE.

Twenty-nine prisoners, one of the largest delegations in many months, was brought here Wednesday from the Jefferson county jail to the penitentiary to begin terms of imprisonment. The crimes of the various prisoners range from murder to arson, and include nearly every offense in the calendar. The terms of imprisonment range from one to fifteen years. There is one murderer among them, Gabe Jones, colored, convicted of the murder of another negro, and sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment. Fifteen deputies accompanied them and acted as an escort—one for two prisoners. The list follows:

Ed Tracy, two years; R. Williams, two years; Thomas McKeever, two years; Sam Rowland, ten years; Albert Jones, five years; William Henson, one year; Joseph Moore, four years; John Hollie, two years; Silas Owens, one year; Charles House, one year; Charles Carroll, three years; Margaret Fields, one year; Henry Lewis, five years; Mat Smyer, one year; Harry Bell, seven years; Robert McDonald, two years; Thomas Smith, one year; Kirk Grundy, two years; Isham Boyd, two years; Charles Miller, two years; Frank Wagner, four years; Gabe Jones, fifteen years; Kent Brown, one year; Tony Viny, two years; R. Dragoon, five years; Frank Gray, five years; William Gray, five years.

NO REQUISITION

So Far Has Been Asked for Taylor and Finley.

So far no step has been taken looking to the issue of a requisition for either W. S. Taylor or Finley. It has been suggested that it would be proper to have Taylor and Finley brought back and tried before final action is taken by the Governor on the replication for pardons for Powers and Howard, for the reason that some new facts might be developed on these trials that would tend to show more clearly the innocence or the guilt of the two men now seeking pardons. It is urged that it could do no harm and might satisfy everybody.

Albert Mathey, aged nine years, of Kansas City, collected 800 one-cent pieces in three years and offered the money to a music dealer for a violin.

BAILEY MILL PRECINCT ELECTION CASES DISMISSED ON

"MOTION OF COMMON-WEALTH".

The famous Bailey Mill precinct election cases, about which so much ado was made before the last State campaign by the Republican press, dismissed in the Franklin Circuit Court here Thursday morning.

Upon motion of County Attorney Frank Dailey, the indictments against J. W. Waldner, J. W. Watkins and L. C. Watkins, the Democratic officers of election at that precinct in the election of 1903 when the fraud was alleged to have been committed, were dismissed.

Prosecutor Daley stated to the court that a full investigation of the cases had been made, and the Commonwealth was satisfied that the facts were not such as would warrant hope of a conviction. He said the men indicted were among the most substantial and best citizens of the county.

Judge Stout entered the order of dismissal. The charge against the election officers was that they voted trees, rocks and other inanimate objects in the election.

SWEARS OUT WARRANT TO RE-COVER RING HE GAVE A YOUNG LADY.

A special from St. Louis Wednesday to the Cincinnati Enquirer, says:

"After searching for her in the various hotels and cafes, a deputy sheriff late today served a writ of replevin for the return of a solitaire diamond ring upon Miss Lucille Mulhall, the famous young horsewoman. The writ was issued this morning at the instigation of Price M. Taylor, of Kentucky, former passenger agent for the Southern Railway.

"Mr. Taylor told the judge who issued the writ that he was afraid he would lose the ring unless he recovered it at once, since he heard that Miss Mulhall was engaged to be married to a rival.

"The deputy sheriff located Miss Mulhall in the office of a physician and patiently waited until she emerged before performing his duty.

Miss Mulhall is the twenty-year-old daughter of Colonel Zack, of the famous 101 Ranch in Oklahoma. Her daring horsemanship in bronco busting and skill with the lariat have attracted widespread attention. Both the President and Mrs. Longworth, before her marriage, often visited at the ranch, and Miss Mulhall was also the guest at the White House whenever in Washington."

Price Taylor was born and reared in this city and is a brother to Mrs. C. A. Watts, E. Hobbs, Buell and Landen Taylor.

ALLEGED NIGHT RIDERS NEAR MURRAY.

A special from Murray says: "Lieut. Wilburn, with eight mounted soldiers, has gone to the end of the county and is expected to arrest nine men charged with whipping farmers.

"County Judge Wells, County Attorney Barnett and Sheriff Edwards are continuing their investigation of the night riders and say they are getting to the bottom of the trouble.

"Evangelist Cline preached a sermon against night riders and called a pledge against lawlessness. All signed.

"The soldiers bagged eight alleged night riders and rode in with them at noon. They are Ed. Thompson, Bob Duncan, Jake Ellis, Jack Elkins, Dumus Miller, Hardin Lovett, Charles Elkins, and one named Tidwell. All are from the Blood river section and were placed in jail. They are young farmers."

On the 8th day of April A. D., 1908, on considering the petition of the aforesaid bankrupt for discharge, filed on the 16th day of March A. D., 1908, it is ordered by the court that a hearing be had upon the same on the 28th day of April, A. D., 1908, before said court at Covington, in said district, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, or as near thereto as practicable, and that notice thereof be published one time in the Frankfort Weekly News, a newspaper printed in said district, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

"County Judge Wells, County Attorney Barnett and Sheriff Edwards are continuing their investigation of the night riders and say they are getting to the bottom of the trouble.

"Evangelist Cline preached a sermon against night riders and called a pledge against lawlessness. All signed.

Witness the Honorable A. M. J. Cochran, Judge of said court, and the seal thereof, at Frankfort, in said district, on the 8th day of April, A. D., 1908.

FINAL

ARRANGEMENTS BEING MADE.

MESSRS. KENNEDY AND NELL
PROMISE TO GIVE FRANKFORT
THE BEST BASE BALL IN HER HISTORY.

Managers Kennedy and Nell, of the Frankfort Base Ball Club, are making the final arrangements for the coming season, and, from all indications, will give the fans of the Capital City high class sport from beginning to end.

On account of the recent heavy rains the ball park is "all to the bad," but if "Old Sol" will come out for a few days, the grounds will be placed in the pink of condition.

The managers will leave nothing undone this year for the convenience of its patrons. New seats will be built, and the park will have every appearance of the "city guys."

The first game of the season will be played at Shelbyville, on the 22d, and from the "dope that's going the rounds, it will be a 'battle royal.'

Following is the line-up for this game:

Frankfort—Kaelin, left field; Cunningham, third base; Allison, short stop; Angermeier, catcher; Wright, center field; Burger, W., first base; Nell, second base; Rice, right field; Burg, H. S. Brock or Cornell, pitcher.

Shelbyville—Long, A., second base; Meehan, short stop; Perkins, center field; Long, F., third base; Brown, first base; Secret, right field; Owens, catcher; Harris, left field; Sanders, Collins or Long, pitcher.

Mr. L. C. Allison, of Bowling Green, arrived Wednesday to don the Frankfort uniform. He is the first of the out-of-town players to report for duty. He appears to be "there with the goods," and has the reputation of being one of the fastest short stops in the south. He has already made a favorable impression with the "boys."

Another ball club has been organized in this city by some of the younger sports, and if the weather will permit they will tackle Kennedy & Nell's crack team Sunday. Roberts and Goin are the managers of the new team, which they will call the "Shamrocks." The line-up is as follows:

Goin, catcher; Crutcher, pitcher; Thompson, short stop; Roberts, first base; Smith, second base; Robb, center field; Emmett, left field; W. Wright, right field; C. Marshall, substitute.

GOING AFTER US.

Members of the local base ball team are getting all the practice they can in order to be in apple-pie order for the opening game with the Frankfort team April 22. Scott Stratton, the old league player, has promised to hold down the initial bag in the opening game for Manager Brown, who will be unable to play on account of a sore arm due to being vaccinated.—Shelbyville News.

GOV. WILLSON

WILL BE VERY BUSY TODAY

PETITIONS FOR PARDONS WILL OCCUPY HIS ENTIRE ATTENTION.

The petitions for pardons for Caleb Powers and James Howard, two of the men charged with complicity in the murder of William Goebel eight years ago, were taken up by Gov. Willson this morning, and his decision in the matter will probably be given out the latter part of next week. Gov. Willson returned to Frankfort Thursday and said that after he had disposed of the business of State calling for his immediate attention he would take up the questions of pardons for Powers and Howard.

The Governor said he would hear the arguments to be advanced by the attorneys both for and against the issuance of the pardons, after which he would go thoroughly over the transcript of the records in each of the trials. He said his decision in neither of the cases would be influenced by politics, but that he would act clearly within the limit of the law.

SOME MILK.

A Massachusetts Cow Gives 104.4 Pounds of Milk in a Single Day.

Back to Nature. Hall, O champion nurser of the human race! Hall, O quiet chewer of nutritious cud! Blessed be peace and open air, beasts and sunlight, and especially blessed be this cow; of her we sing. Hall, Pauline; number 45—if that name you love, O buttercup champion of the world! Think of giving 104.4 pounds of milk in a single day, and also at a high average of four.

I think I could do it with animals, they are more self-contained.

I stand by the cow, long and long.

They do not say she is sick, their condition.

They do not lie in the sun and weep for their sin.

They do not make me sick discarding their duty to God.

Not one is dissatisfied, not one is demented with the mania of owning things,

Not one kneels to another, nor to his kind that lived thousands of years ago.

Not one is respectable or unhappy round the whole earth.

Would the pen of Homer were our own, for we have no taste to celebrate the feats of admirals and presidents, prize-fighters and millionaires, and would fain do justice to the cow; for she, by her own unaided might, can support thirty babies on this earth. This journal is too strenuous; often in sadness we believe it to be more strenuous than inspired; higher in purpose than in charm; but yet how dearly it loves to forget the dust and sound of strife; to rest in reverence for such forces as are summoned to the mind by regarding the animal on this page.

NO BURLEY CROP.

SECRETARY CLARK, OF FAYETTE COUNTY, SAYS THEY HAVE WON THE FIGHT.

Prof. J. D. Clark, secretary of the Fayette county branch of the Society of Equity, says:

"We have won the fight for no 1908 crop, as the canvassed returns now in possession of the society will show. Not enough tobacco will be raised in the Burley district this year to give each man a pipeful around.

The society is in better shape now than ever before, and what is of more importance to the growers, the price of tobacco is going up every day. Pool-ed tobacco is now commanding a price beyond the most sanguine expectations of the promoters of the Equity Society."

The representative of a large independent manufacturer was in Lexington this week to sample eighty-six hogsheads of the Equity tobacco in the warehouse there preliminary to making the purchase. Secretary Clark says that he will deliver this week twenty hogsheads which have been purchased by another independent manufacturer.

LOUISIANA

Offers Land to Kentucky Planters Who are Forced Out.

A plan to invite tobacco growers from those portions of Kentucky who have suffered from night riding to settle in North Louisiana, where there are hundreds of thousands of acres of tobacco lands, was announced Thursday by Manager Trezvant, of the New Orleans Progressive Union. This body has had the matter under consideration with the State Commissioner of Agriculture, Charles Schuler. He says that highly satisfactory results have been obtained at the North Louisiana experiment station of his department in growing and curing to bacco, and that there are large areas of land in the northern section of the State, on which experienced tobacco growers can make excellent profits. Mr. Schuler says that the State Board of Agriculture is ready to assist those desiring to cultivate tobacco in Louisiana.

The Progressive Union has written to the leading commercial organizations of several North Louisiana cities, including Shreveport, Monroe, Minden and Alexander, asking them to cooperate in bringing tobacco growers to the State.

Mr. E. J. Curley, a prominent distiller, of Jessamine county, was fined $250 in the Franklin Circuit Court on account of his failure to make a report to the Auditor of the quantity and kinds of spirits he had in his bonded warehouse in Jessamine county in 1898. No new points of law are involved in the case, which was tried here before the State Fiscal Court, and could not be brought in Jessamine county.

ONE BY ONE

THE ROSES FALL.

MR. M. R. GLENN IN DANGER OF LOSING HIS POSITION AS RATE CLERK.

As to the rumor that he is to lose his position as rate clerk for the Post Office Commission, Mr. R. Glenn says that the only reason he has been such a rate clerk is because he has been a newspaperman. He says the Legislature have displaced him and secured another, but that he has no reason to believe the Commissioners will remove him so shortly after his appointment.

It is said that, before the appointment of Mr. Glenn was made, Governor Willson told the two Republican members that, notwithstanding they composed a majority of the board, Mr. Ferguson was entitled to some consideration and it is claimed that he was largely responsible for the appointment of a Democrat. This move was said by his friends to be in line with his bi-partisan policy. What position Gov. Willson will take in the matter now is not known.

Of the numerous applicants for the place Denver B. Cornett is said to have the inside track, provided Senator-elect Bradley is successful in his effort to put a Republican in Mr. Glenn's place. Representative S. A. Smith is also said to be after the place and Representative Hannah wouldn't mind, it is claimed.

REPLACED BY A NEW ONE.

The Famous High Bridge Will Shortly be a Thing of the Past.

Within a few months High Bridge, one of the wonders of this wonderful Blue Grass country, will have passed into history. A newer, stronger, more up-to-date bridge is to replace it; even the site will be changed, for the new bridge will be built further up the river at the point where the Dixie empties into the Kentucky. The Queen & Crescent railway, which owns the old bridge, has completed the survey for the new one and it will probably be completed within a year.

The new bridge is to be higher than the present one, which is even yet a marvel of architecture in this day of marvels. At the time of its construction, in 1876, it was the highest bridge on the continent, and was considered one of the wonders of the decade.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

YORKSHIRE PUDDING. The recipes usually seen produce a soggy mass, very different from the "broadacred" shire's product. Try this from a genuine Yorkshire woman: Beat thoroughly two eggs, yolks and whites together, six tablespoonsfuls flour, salt to season, and milk, until the whole is the consistency of thick cream. Pour into a roasting pan and bake in the dripping from the roast, or heat to the boiling point one tablespoonful of lard or drippings and bake in this twenty minutes. It is truly delicious with the accompaniment of roast beef and brown gravy.

SOFT GINGERBREAD.

One cup molasses, one egg, one teaspoon ginger, lard and butter the size of a large egg. A generous pinch of salt, and stir with flour, then add one cup boiling water and one teaspoon soda. This may seem thin, but don't add any more flour.

BROWN BREAD.

One and one-half cups dry bread crumbs that have been dried and browned a little in the oven and then rolled fine; two-thirds of a cupful of flour, one cupful molasses, one and one-half cupfuls sour milk, one and one-half cupfuls cornmeal, one cupful raisins, two teaspoonsfuls soda, one teaspoonful salt. Steam three hours and a half.

CORNED BEEF.

If the beef is very salty it will need soaking several hours, perhaps overnight. It is then placed with one or two bay leaves in a deep earthen dish used for baking beans. Boiling water is poured over till the meat is covered by an inch of water. Cover with a plate, place it in the coolest part of the oven after the noon meal and let it remain there all night. If a fire is kept all night the meat may be put in the oven late in the afternoon. In the morning it will be ready for the press. This method has many advantages. It dispenses with the odor of "boiling corned beef," the meat is usually well flavored and can be used in many ways as if it were fresh beef. I have made ragouts, mincemeat, meat loaves and various combinations with crumbs, rice and made soups, which I have never considered possible with corned beef. The fat on the cold pot liquor furnishes very good shortening for gingerbread, and from the liquid I have made several kinds of soups.

Bacon Fritters.

Cut fresh pork into pieces about half an inch square and fry until done, but not brown. Take one cup flour, one cup Southern cornmeal, one teaspoonful saleratus, a pinch of salt and enough sugar to make a stiff batter. Beat the batter stiff and light, mix well and add the cooked pork, then enough water to mix well. Fry in deep fat and eat with good Southern rice.

RICE AND TOMATO SOUP.

Put one tablespoonful of butter into a saucepan, add two small onions, chopped fine, and cook without browning. Add one can of tomatoes (or three pints ripe ones), two cupfuls of water, one teaspoonful of salt, six peppercorns and two sprigs of parsley. Cook until tomatoes are soft, then rub through a sieve. Return to the saucepan with two table spoonfuls of well-washed rice and simmer slowly for one hour. Press again through a sieve and add more seasoning if desired.

BAKED CROQUETTES.

Many kinds of croquettes can be baked. This does away with the odor from the boiling fat. Mashed potatoes, rice and macaroni need only a little beaten egg and the proper seasonings. The same is true of meat or fish with rice or crumbs. The material ready shape the croquettes as you please, roll twice each in egg and put in buttered pan about an inch apart and bake in a hot oven not more than ten minutes.

ACTION IN RAILROAD RATE CASES POSTPONED UNTIL MONDAY.

Because of the failure of several of the attorneys, representing the railroads of Kentucky, to be present at the conference of attorneys for the Railroad Commission and the legal counsel of the railroads of the State, the conference called for Thursday morning in Louisville to try to formulate plans for making a motion before Federal Judge A. M. J. Cochran, of Maysville, to ascertain the legal status of the Railroad Commission in fixing freight rates, was continued until next Monday morning. Alex P. Humphrey, of the Southern; Henry L. Stone, of the L. & N., and C. C. McCord, attorney for the Railroad Commission, were the only attorneys able to be at the meeting on Thursday.

Although but three attorneys were at the conference there was considerable preliminary discussion on the matter. Nothing definite could be agreed upon, however, because of the absence of several of the attorneys.

The plan for making such a motion was talked over generally. At the end of the meeting the three attorneys who were in attendance were by no means decided on the main point of the discussion: Whether a motion should be made to Judge Cochran, asking him to hand down an opinion on the constitutionality of the commission's power to fix rates.

The three attorneys who were present at the meeting are of the belief that at the conference Monday some definite conclusion as to whether the step will be taken will be decided upon. It will be necessary to go over all the legal phases of the question and several meetings will be taken up for consideration by the board to-day.

HIGHER

STATE TAXES THIS YEAR.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION CONTINUES TO INCREASE AS-SESSMENT.

The State Board of Equalization continued its work of equalizing the assessments on various counties of the State, following the example which has been consistently set by the board in making substantial raises to the assessments of the counties considered. The board is making these raises in the face of the vigorous protest of delegations of prominent citizens and officials from the counties affected. They say that the Republican administration will have no trouble in securing what money it needs to run the State government, for, although the tax rate has not been increased and no bonded indebtedness has been saddled upon the people, still the taxes which they will have to pay this year will be higher than ever before because of the increased valuation set upon their lands by the State Board of Equalization.

Delegations from three counties went before the board, but in each instance increases in the assessments were ordered. County Judge G. M. Bohannon represented Barren county, which got a final raise of 7 per cent. on farm lands and 10 per cent. on town lots. From Hardin county were Judge Cyrus Veirs, Assessor C. L. Crume Supervisor S. L. Waggoner, and Messrs. B. L. Elder and W. C. Montgomery. The final assessment on Hardin property was raised 2 per cent. on town lots and 4 per cent. on farm lands. Bullitt county was raised only 2 per cent. on lands. Judge Leroy Daniel, H. B. Troutman and J. B. Monroe made up the Bullitt delegation of protestants. Nelson, Pulaski, Boyle and Calloway will be taken up for consideration by the board to-day.

DISTRIBUTION

To Growers Whose Tobacco Has Been Sold by the Burley Pool.

In an interview at Lexington yesterday afternoon Secretary J. D. Clark of the Fayette County Board of Equity Society, stated that all arrangements have been completed to begin at once distributing money from the tobacco sold to members of the Equity Society all over the burley district. The only delay is now caused in getting blanks printed. As soon as this is done checks will be mailed. Clark denied the report that the society will retain 10 per cent. on all tobacco sold for expenses, but said that all money will be paid the growers when the tobacco in pool is sold. This tobacco amounts to about a hundred and sixty million pounds originally and practically only a small amount has been sold. On certain grades, he says, 90 per cent. of the purchase price will be paid in cash, 10 per cent. being withheld for a time as a reserve fund. Eighty thousand pounds were delivered yesterday to independent buyers at Equity prices.

HORSE BREEDERS IN SESSION.

Important Interstate Meeting in Progress at the Seelbach.

About fifty members of the American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association attended the annual meeting which was held yesterday in the red room at the Seelbach. The first session was called to order at 11 o'clock by Gen. John B. Castleman, the president. The reports show, according to I. B. Nall, was that the association is in a prosperous condition, and accomplishing a good work for the interests of the breeders of fine saddle horses.

A feature of the session was an address made by the Hon. George M. Rommel, a representative from the Livestock Bureau of the Department of Agriculture at Washington. He had as his subject, "Types of American horses." The bureau is promoting the breeding of American saddle and carriage horses in preference to importations of foreign horses, and the American Saddle-horse Breeders' Association is co-operating with the government. For 100 years America has been importing foreign horses for breeding purposes, and it is claimed that it is not necessary, as the blood of the American stock is just as good.

The association has members in Kentucky, Indiana, Texas, Missouri, Tennessee and other States. Members from a number of States are attending the annual meeting.

The association was organized in 1891, and has its headquarters in this city.

Cattle—Receipts, 24 head; for the four days this week, 241. The demand was about equal to the supply and everything on sale changed hands early, with no material change in values, unless choice butcher stuff can be considered as showing an improvement, some thinking that class sold today about 10c higher than first of the week. And the kinds of butcher stuff in good condition, they are no more steady. There was a good inquiry for them, but there were any here could have been sold a shade higher; common, trashy kinds are a little draggy at steady prices. Bulls no more than steady: canners dull to a shade lower. No heavy shipping cattle on sale yesterday; the receipts of that class have been very light since Monday, and with a good inquiry that class could have been sold a shade higher. Choice milch cows barely steady at the first of the week's prices; thin, small cows fully $2.50 lower.

Calves—Receipts, 21 head; for the four days, 238. There is no change to note in the market, best calves selling from $6 to $6.25; fair to good calves, $5.50 & 6c; common kinds dull and hard to sell.

Hogs—Receipts, 2,332 head; for the four days this week, 5,892. With a good attendance of buyers on the yard yesterday and a good, active demand, everything on sale was absorbed early at an advance of 5c per hundred on all other grades, best 100 lbs., up and selling at $6.20; 120 to 160 lbs. $5.90; 90 to 120 lbs. $5.25; light pigs $4.50; roughs $5.50 down. The Louisville leaf tobacco market was devoid of feature. Business continued light, the aggregate offerings at all the warehouses being only 450 hogsheads—329 Burley and 130 dark. The quality of both the Burley and the dark was below the average and the condition was poor. There was a strong demand for all grades and prices were firm and unchanged.

The Louisville Tobacco Warehouse Company issued the following review of the leaf tobacco market yesterday afternoon.

The sales on our market for one week, including today, amounted to 2,584 hogsheads, divided as follows: New Burley, 950; old Burley, 389;

ELECTRIC COOKING DEVICES IN CHINA.

While the Chinese as a people are very backward about adopting the many new things of the progressive West this does not seem to hold true with the electric devices. United States Consul W. T. Gracey of Tsing-tan, China, recently stated that the general electric utensils were finding a ready sale in Shanghai.

All through the Orient fuel is very scarce and nothing is more welcome than the new cooking and heating utensils which prepare the food and heat the buildings without the consumption of the precious bundles of fagots, charcoal and coal. The municipal electrical department of Shanghai has a special low rate of charge for current consumed in electric heating appliances. The kitchen devices are being quite extensively used and the electric radiators have proven most useful in offices and residences during the damp weather when a small and steady fire is needed. The electric teakettles for afternoon tea are also finding a ready sale in the city and vicinity.
